

The FCC should NOT implement any proposal that will lessen Indiana's Telephone Privacy law protections. The Indiana law has greatly improved our quality of life at home and provided a greater sense of security as we have less invasion of our privacy. Prior to the Indiana law it was not uncommon to come home to a caller id of no less than 10-12 calls listing nothing but solicitors not to mention the several a night - Ridiculous. After being put on the no call list we may get one call a WEEK - usually from a political party or charitable organization. Finally, peace at home and no interruptions from automated computer calling systems from folks who want to do nothing but sell sell sell....Please do not implement changes that would lessen the quality of life that we have now in protecting our privacy at home.
